After my neighbour experienced a termite infection I sought out a suitable, yet reasonably priced, prevention programme for my property. Green Pest Control was easily located both on the Internet and through the Yellow Pages - and it was local !!

After reviewing the product I considered it to be a good solution, so purchased the package and installed the baits as per the well documented instructions.

Within one month one bait became active - and, following the instructions, after one month I applied Intrigue to this active bait, waited a further month and found all termite activity had ceased. It appeared that eradication had succeeded.

As advised, a second fresh bait was laid in the close vicinity of the original active bait. There has been no further termite activity identified.

The system is simple, safe to use and appears successful. An enterprising and less expensive DIY activity.
